

ABOUT US

A totally independent company, established over forty years ago by Paola Corvino as the helping arm for creative producers and new directors, Intramovies has remained mainly and foremost an international film distributor of quality movies from all over the world, venturing now and again into coproducing selected titles with Australia, Spain and France.

No more than 8 to 10 titles a year make it into the company slate, chosen among high standard production value movies that get their highlights at major international festivals.

Intramovies also boasts a catalogue of over five hundred titles of international renown, with classics by directors such as Fellini, Visconti, Antonioni, Pasolini, De Sica, Bertolucci, Comencini, Rosi, Argento and others.

The long lasting and solid relationships with local distributors all over the world ensure that the movies represented are given due consideration and recognition, while a Team of young and dedicated executives permits the company to be present in support of the movies at several festivals and at a selection of macro-area's markets.

To keep abreast with new technologies is also, a must so that the movies the company represents are given as numerous and ample opportunities of reaching the right audience as there can be.